Division Manager of Sanctuary Outpost

News from Sanctuary Outpost

Greetings from Sycamores Chapel in Checotah, Oklahoma!

Sally and I are grateful that you are on our prayer and support team as we serve Jesus here at Sanctuary Outpost, the International division of CRMI. It is unbelievable that the calendar has turned on November of 2015. Soon we will be involved with the celebration of Jesus' birthday and the final month of this year. Time flies when you are involved in the business of the Lord, doesn't it?

November is the month that many of the CRMI RV chaplains rotate through on their way to their assignments in the southern destination states. This past month, we had the privilege of hosting Chaplain Jay and Margaret Clason, Chaplain Rich and Kim Sterling, and Chaplain Elton and Liz Glenn as they rotated to their winter assignments. It is always great to spend time with these dear servants of the Lord. This month also saw Chaplain Jay Clason ordained to the Gospel ministry here at Sycamore Chapel, by a 100% vote of our church body.

As you know, Sycamore Chapel is the local church plant associated with CRMI and the International division of CRMI, Sanctuary Outpost. Sally and I are blessed to pastor this international church body and act as the division managers of Sanctuary Outpost.

We are kept busy with the various responsibilities we have.

You can get a better feel for this work on our web site www.crmintl.org under both the Sanctuary Outpost page for international news and the Life Borders page speaking about Friendship Kitchen the local ministry Sally and I coordinate and also on the Facebook locations for Freshwater Church USVI and Landa Carnes. Terry and Marta Lansdale and Landa Carnes lead two of our international outreaches to the West Indies and Nicaragua. These international chaplains are doing God's work in difficult settings. It is a joy to work inter-denominationally in all that we do as chaplains.

We thank you for praying, supporting, and participating with us as we serve.

Sally and I were blessed to host sixteen ministry partners, family and Sycamores Chapel members here at Sycamores Chapel for the Thanksgiving holiday (US observance). We had a time of prayer, celebration in song testimony and a wonderful dinner which Sally coordinated and all of the celebrants contributed to. I guess you could call this an international Godly pot luck! We have found joy in hosting and participating in these events. It gives us an opportunity to celebrate with our family and friends with the emphasis being placed upon Jesus. We were blessed by the spirit of worship of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. We are always saddened when this holiday passes. There is something wonderful about members of the Lord Jesus' eternal family gathering in remembrance of Him. It is a particular blessing to Sally and myself.

May the coming preparation for celebration of the Lord Jesus' birthday be a blessing to you and yours as we move into December! Until the next update, we thank you for your interest in us and care for us. We are humbled as we pray for each of our partners and ministry friends! We ask you to pray for us as we pray for you!

Blessings!
